about the exhibit

DECEMBER 20, 2009 – JANUARY 17, 2010

"Piti Piti Plein Kay" is a Haitian expression, which means that even a tiny light can fill an entire house. The aim of this featured exhibit is to present a diverse and engaging array of artwork produced sustainably that takes a look at how a small, thoughtful impulse, like a seed, can hold great meaning and potential to transform while sharing a snapshot of the artists' Caribbean heritage.
